NEW OWNERS

HAL DAVENPORT REPORTS MANY TRANSACTIONS IN SOUTH PART OF GLENDALE

Reports of transactions by Hal Davenport indicate that he has been doing a lively real estate business in the southern part of the city. His sales include:

Lot on the corner of Eulalia and Brand for Mrs. Rudling of Glendale to J. B. Myers, also of Glendale who recently sold his house on East Palmer and expects to build on the lot he has purchased.

House and two lots at 1239 South Glendale, owned by Mr. Davenport himself to Mr. Jackman, a new comer from Ohio.

House and lot on Central Avenue, a short distance south of Los Feliz Road, for Otto Benser to Mr. Denny of New York. He has bought for a home and will occupy it with his family.

Property on South Central, near San Fernando Road, owned by a Mr. McLucas, city attorney of Santa Monica, to A. J. Becker who recently sold his home on the same street.

House on Palmer, near Maryland Avenue, for William Brooks to Mr. Petty, who is connected with the Sunset Telephone Company of Los Angeles.

Property on East Garfield, owned by James A. Maxwell, to Mr. Race of Altadena, who has taken possession of his purchase.

Rented a furnished house at 122 North Cedar Street for Mrs. Gale to James A. Wallace, who is connected with a big advertising firm in Los Angeles who has taken the property for six months.

Rented a four-room furnished apartment on West Laurel Street, near Brand, for Mrs. Bancroft, for $50 a month to new comers.

Rented the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Lynch on South Maryland, furnished, for six months to parties from Oregon for $80 per month.

COMING TO GLENDALE TO STAY

Miss Electra McPherson, who has been the guest of her old friend, Mrs. Anderson of 1312 East Harvard Street, has returned to Los Vegas, Texas, where she conducts a millinery business. She came to Glendale with her sister, Miss Doxie McPherson, who was in ill health, in the hope that the change of climate would prove beneficial, but the invalid lived but a few days after their arrival. She is now returning to close out her business and bring her mother in the expectation that they will make their permanent home here. She and Mrs. Anderson were born and grew up in Greenville, Texas, and have always been friends.

RUNAWAY BOYS

Gordon Kingsley, aged 15, of 735 East Wilson Avenue, Leo McGuire of 241 North Cedar, aged 13, and Fred Conner, 1662 Kenneth Road, aged 15, ran away from home Saturday. They told boy companions before they started that they were going to San Pedro to join the Marines. Nothing has been heard from any of them yet. The parents are disposed to let hunger drive them home, thus teaching them a valuable lesson.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Wednesday. Light frost in the early morning.

FAR VENEZUELA

MRS. HATTIE GAYLORD HAS INTERESTING LETTER FROM MISSIONARIES THERE

Mrs. Hattie Gaylord of this city is in receipt of a most interesting letter from her friend, Mrs. D. A. Fitch, engaged in mission work, describing the trip made by herself and party from Porto Rico to their new station at Caracas, Venezuela. The port of entry, La Guayra, was reached November 16th, after having left Porto Rico on the 11th of the same month.

"Caracas," she writes, "is only seven miles from La Guayra, but it requires twenty-two miles of railway to wind about the mountains, through tunnels and apparently being about to descend into abysses, before we reach our destination, an ascent of three thousand feet and then a slight descent which brings us in sight of the city nestled in a valley rich in vegetation, for all it is in the middle of November. D. and M. were entertained in the house of Elder Baxter, a plan of which ac-

FACTORY GROWS

ADDITIONS TO BUILDINGS BEING MADE AND MORE MACHINERY INSTALLED

Herman Paine, manager of the L. A. Basket Factory in South Glendale, took out a permit this morning for a $10,000 addition to the factory. It is of concrete and brick construction, 600 feet long by 66 feet wide, divided by brick partitions. It will be used for storage ware rooms, rest rooms for the girl and women employes and rooms for the automatic basket making machines, with which the factory is being fully equipped. Formerly all the baskets were made by hand and more than the minimum wage was paid employes, Mr. Paine said, but the competition of the Japanese sweat shops is compelling all factories run by white labor to install the automatic machines. These aliens are not affected by the minimum wage, eight hour and child labor laws, hence the women and girls and the children from six years up work long hours at the task, taking to their homes the wood strips and the tin and putting the baskets together there.

This factory pays out more than $150,000 in wages annually, says Mr. Paine, probably more than any other business institution in Greater Glendale.

P. T. A. LADIES VISIT EL RETIRO

Mrs. C. L. Peckham of 615 North Central Avenue reports that 34 members of the various Parent-Teacher Associations made a trip last Friday to El Retiro, the school and refuge near San Fernando, provided by the county to be conducted in connection with the Juvenile Court. Each P. T. A. represented sent substantial gifts of fruit, money, quilts and clothing to be distributed to the 24 girls now cared for by the institution. Each one of these will be kept there until taught to be self-supporting. The girls are instructed not only in book learning but in useful vocations and are allowed to retain their earnings, depositing them in savings banks. The ladies were delighted with the cleanly, healthful appearance of everything in connection with the institution and with the kindly spirit shown toward the girls by the officers and teachers.

TO BECOME RANCHER

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE WRIGHT AND FAMILY LEAVING FOR FARM AT ROSCOE

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wright of 375 West Broadway who have sold their property to A. L. Burson, the plastering contractor, are leaving with their family next week to take possession of a ranch they have bought at Roscoe, near Bakersfield. They have two daughters in the High School and a 12-year-old son attending the Columbus Avenue School who are most reluctant to leave their schoolmates and teachers, but it seems best to go now to look after their interests at Roscoe and the children will be transferred to the high school and grade school there, which are within a mile of their ranch. The Wrights have been considering the purchase of land for some time, but had expected to wait until spring. Prices are advancing so rapidly, however, they felt they could not afford to delay, so are making the change. Mrs. Wright says they are all exceedingly sorry to leave Glendale, which they consider an almost ideal town, and they are hoping at some time in the future to be abie to return to stay.

SUDDEN DEATH OF SARAH H. BACON

Mrs. Sarah H. Bacon, who for the past five years has resided in an apartment in the T. A. Wright building at 106-A East Broadway, was found dead in her apartment last evening, having expired of heart trouble. Her remains, which are at the Pulliam & Kiefer establishment, will be shipped to Waltham, Mass., her former home, where funeral services will be held. Mrs. Bacon is survived by a sister, Mrs. R. J. Westwood, of 515 North Maryland Avenue, this city.

F. E. Wright, who recently sold his property on South Central Avenue, has bought the S. W. Dutcher place at 1186 North Columbus Avenue and has moved in. A very handsome house was recently completed on the property.

OIL LEASING BILL

HOUSE PASSES MEASURE REVOKING PRESENT PRIVATE PATENTS AND PERPETUAL RIGHTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The House today passed the conference report on the oil leasing bill. The measure now goes to the Senate.

This is the sixth time the House has passed such a bill. Chairman Sinnott of the House Public Lands Committee, in explaining the bill said:

"This bill repeals the present laws giving individual patents or perpetual rights to government mineral and oil lands and institutes instead a system of leasing. It is a real conservation measure."

BIG SUMMONS OF TALESMEN

PROSPECTIVE JURORS POURING INTO TOMBSTONE BY AUTO, STAGE AND HORSEBACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Feb. 10.—Tombstone put on new life today with jurors summoned for the Bisbee deportation and kidnaping cases pouring into the town. The influx started last night when talesmen from far removed points in the county began to arrive by stage, automobile and some on horseback. This morning men continued coming in. Although no session of court will be held until this afternoon, by ten o'clock some thirty-five autos were parked around the court house and probably one hundred men were grouped in the corridors and around the building. The court records indicate that three hundred talesmen have been served. While last week there was confidence expressed almost everywhere that a jury would be completed from this venire, today confidence seemed to have given way to doubt.

PEACE TREATY RETURNS TO SENATE

SET FOR DISCUSSION NEXT MONDAY WHEN SENATORS NOW ABSENT WILL RETURN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Senator Lodge reported the peace treaty from the Foreign Relations Committee to the Senate today. He gave notice that he will ask that the treaty be taken up next Monday for consideration.

"I let the matter lie over for these few days because so many senators on both sides are absent. About thirty-five are away and others are planning to leave," Lodge said.

There was no discussion of the peace treaty in the Senate this morning. The Senate returned immediately to its regular legislative business.

SIMS STILL PURSUES

ACCUSES DANIELS OF "DEFEATIST POLICY" MORE DEADLY THAN BOLSHEVISM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Admiral Sims today accused Secretary of the Navy Daniels of pursuing a "defeatist policy." Sims declared this policy is more detrimental to the fighting spirit of the navy than the worst form of Bolshevism is to organized government.

Sims, in resuming his testimony before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, which is investigating the medal awards, said he was willing to make any personal sacrifice to prevent such a policy from getting a permanent hold in the navy.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE IN LIMELIGHT

OFFERS TO SURRENDER HIMSELF TO ALLIES IN PLACE OF THE NINE HUNDRED DEMANDED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Wilson has received a cable from the former Crown Prince of Germany offering himself to the allies for trial in place of the nine hundred Germans demanded. The cable was immediately transmitted to the President by White House officials. It said in part:

"That a government could be founded in Germany that would carry out the demanded surrender, is out of the question. The consequences to Europe of an enforcement of the demand by violence, are incalculable. Hatred and revenge would be made eternal. If the allies and associated governments want a victim, let them take me instead of the nine hundred Germans who committed no offense other than that of serving their country during the war."

PERISH OFF NEW FOUNDLAND

HALIFAX, Feb. 10.—Twenty-one men have perished as a result of the sinking of the British steamer Bradboyne off New Foundland, according to advices received here this morning.

A lifeboat from the steamer Oxonian, which was attempting to rescue the British crew, was swamped with the loss of its second officer and five members of the crew. Fifteen men perished when the Bradboyne sank. The Oxonian wirelessed it was returning here with twenty-six members of the British crew.

WELFARE COUNCIL

ORGANIZATION DOING EXCELLENT WORK FOR RELIEF OF NEEDY OF CITY

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Glendale Welfare Council was held Monday evening in the Council Chamber at the City Hall with Mrs. E. D. Yard, president, in the chair. Others present were: Mrs. E. L. Young, secretary; Mrs. R. A. Blackburn, treasurer, and Mrs. C. E. Norton, director, who has been appointed in place of J. G. Monahan, who was unable to serve.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report for January showed:

Balance on hand Jan. -	$124.35
Donations	29.43
Proceeds, Red Cross Shop	49.43
Collections for month	78.83
Total	$203.21
Expenditures for relief	39.35
Balance on hand Feb. 1	163.86

Mrs. Blackburn's report showed that clothing had been issued to six families, approximating twenty-six persons; also that the sick who need the attention of the Council had been visited, that county aid had been secured in necessary cases, that employment had been found for applicants needing work, that milk had been furnished where needed, and shelter found for the shelterless, all of which had entailed considerable activity on the part of welfare workers.

Reports showed that the council's stock of bedding has been exhausted and steps were taken to call together representatives of the various organizations affiliated in the council for the replenishing of the supply, as the demand is constant.

GROW IN INTEREST

MEETINGS AT METHODIST CHURCH CONTINUE WITH GOOD RESULTS

The special Evangelistic meetings that have been in progress for the last two weeks in the First Methodist Church are continuing throughout this week. Each afternoon at 2:30 Evangelist Ross gives a Bible reading and each night preaches a revival sermon. The meetings are growing in power and the greatest week ever experienced in the church is anticipated.

The rain last evening caused a smaller attendance, but the service was the best. Rev. Ross spoke on the work of the Holy Spirit in convicting of sin. He declared with his usual eloquence and with unquestioned authority that there was but one agency in the world that could produce genuine conviction for sin. That it was in God's plan that the church should depend upon the Holy Spirit to do this work. He also pressed home the fact that the church that experienced a revival was always a church that sought and obtained heart purity by the work of the same spirit. The sin cursed world needs a holy church. The church to be holy must have the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

The meeting last evening was attended by a large proportion of young people and one young man was converted.

The music at these special meetings is a very attractive feature. Each night Evangelist Cooper sings and with the sweetness of his voice stirs the hearts of all who hear.

Meeting this evening at 7:30 as usual. All are invited to attend.

BACK TO THE SOIL

The movement toward the planting of gardens and vacant lots, which was almost universal during the war, is again gaining ground, not only in Glendale but all over the Southland. This is being urged by municipal heads and newspapers in general. The manager of the Mission Inn at Riverside has secured a five-acre plat of ground and had it planted to lettuce, radishes, turnips and beets and will later add beans and tomatoes. He said this had to be done to feed his guests, for at times such produce was simply unobtainable.

FUNERAL OF ALFRED CLARK

Funeral services over the remains of Alfred Clark will be held in the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park February 11th at 3 p. m. They will be conducted by the Glendale Commandery, Knights Templar, and Pulliam & Kiefer will be in charge.

YOUNG FILM STARS

ESTHER AND HOWARD RALSTON IN PICTURE PLAYS NOW ON LOS ANGELES SCREENS

Members of the Ralston family are busier than ever at the moving picture studios. Howard, who plays at the Goldwyn studio, made such a hit with Mary Roberts Rinehart when she saw him on the screen that she sent for Mr. Goldwyn and told him she wished Howard to take the boy part in the scenario she is writing called "Empire Builders." To make it more exactly fit the boy she is now re-writing the part. The picture in which Howard supported Mary Pickford as juvenile lead—"Pollyanna"—is now on the screen in Los Angeles and playing to crowded houses. At the same time the picture, "Huckleberry Finn," in which Esther Ralston has the part of Mary Jane, is being shown at Grauman's. It is considered quite a coincidence that the brother and sister should be featured at the same time in two theatres.

Esther will soon complete her contract in "Michael and His Lost Angel," and has the choice of two new contracts, one with the Clara Kimball Young studio and one with the Metro Studio. The activities of her young people keep Mrs. Ralston much occupied, as she necessarily has to chaperone her daughter and some times act herself.

RAINFALL VERY UNEVEN

According to T. W. Preston's rain gauge the total precipitation for the storm ending last night was .55 inches, bringing the total for the season to 7.92. As showing the difference in rainfall in adjacent sections, Mr. Bartlett, whose very accurate gauge is only four blocks from Mr. Preston's, reports but .49 inches for the storm. Mr. Preston's total for the season is 7.92 and Mr. Bartlett's 7.74. The rainfall was very unequally distributed over the entire Southland, Long Beach getting more than an inch and Anaheim two and one-half inches.

WILSON CATT INJURED IN AUTO MIXUP

Wilson Catt of Everett and Harvard appeared on the streets yesterday with his face one solid mass of bruises and bandages. When asked the reason for this state of affairs he said it was 'just a Ford." He was taking an auto ride with his son-in-law when their machine smashed into another which was making a turn and he landed hard against the windshield, which was broken by the impact. Not only was his face and head bruised, but flying glass cut several gashes. His injuries, while painful, were not at all serious.

BIG ELKS' MEETING

GOODLY LIST OF NEW MEMBERS INITIATED AND APPLICATIONS RECEIVED

Between four and five hundred members and guests from other lodges were present at the meeting of the Glendale Elks' Lodge Monday evening at which new members were initiated and a large number of applications for membership were received.

Impromptu addresses were made by Judge Greer, a well known attorney of Los Angeles, and by Judge Grant Jackson of the Superior Court, that city, who had come out to enjoy the meeting, but when called upon responded with jolly talks through which ran an admonition to patriotism and the support of the government in these critical times when there is such need for loyal citizenship. Following the ceremonies an adjournment was taken to the jinks room, where refreshments were served.

New members initiated were:

Roy U. Selover, Jack R. Trowbridge, George H. Blix, Frank Mair, Harry Balber, William P. McCulley, Edwin T. Badger, Jesse Rasor, Edward T. Hopper, Earl A. Garren and Charles Grist. Twenty new applications were received.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitney, who have been living at 422 East Harvard, are moving into the house they recently purchased from Mrs. Hattie Gaylord at 1144 East Lexington. They have been missionaries in China for forty years and will occupy the house until their son and his family, for whom they have purchased it, arrive.

RIGHT TO CRITICIZE

No one in this country is inclined to limit the right to criticize the conduct of public affairs. Admiral Sims, relying on this time-honored American right, makes grave charges against the conduct of the navy department during the war, and Secretary Daniels tells him to come on with the facts.

If more criticism had been permitted during the war, no doubt our public war debt might have been appreciably reduced. But it must be admitted that a policy of silence and cooperation during the crisis of conflict is the best one to follow. To criticize in the heat and storm of action is like throwing sand into the bearings of a moving truck.

Such untimely criticism wrought havoc during the Civil war.

But with the end of the war constructive criticism becomes necessary. The only way that government can really profit from a trying and complicated experience is to have the help and light of criticism. As Admiral Sims suggests, the efficiency of the navy is a matter of first consideration, and an officer who does not criticise when such criticism will do good, is not worth the pay he receives.

There is a time to criticise and a time not to criticise. Admiral Sims thinks the time to speak has arrived. "Come on," says Secretary Daniels, and in the upshot the nation should profit greatly from the investigation to be made.—Monrovia News.

ONE IN FOUR UNABLE TO READ

In connection with the problem of the danger to the teachers' profession through inadequate pay, consider the question of illiteracy in the United States.

We had been going on in the comfortable feeling that the census showed only 8.4 per cent of the men of voting age unable to read and write. That didn't seem excessive when the number of aliens was taken into account, but the experience of the draft jarred us out of our complacency. The examining boards learned that one man in four whom they examined was unable to read and write English.

When the census enumerator asked an illiterate whether he could read and write, shame impelled him to answer "yes," in a very large number of cases. But when he came before the examining board, he had to prove what he could do. That was why the percentage was shoved up from 8.4 to 24.9.

With such a situation, with one quarter of our population unable to exercise the fundamental functions of citizenship, we certainly can't permit our teaching force to be still further demoralized. It ought to be expanded, not contracted.

A little boy in Sunday School at Ontario, in answer to the teacher's question as to what an epistle was, said he guessed it was the wife of an apostle.

Job and news print paper advanced only twenty per cent in price during January, but it hurt the printers just like sixty.

Glendale, like every other city in the United States, has been

Glendale, live every other city in the United States, has been facing one of the big problems caused by the war, that is housing.

Very little building was done during the war, and for that matter for some little time before the United States went into it. It has been estimated that 600,000 new homes a year are needed in our country; the figures also show that we are nearly 1,000,000 short at present. This lack has caused a great rush in building and the shortage of materials makes it very hard to speed up any.

With home seekers in such a hurry to get a roof over their heads they are making one of the gravest mistakes that can be made in building a home, they don't study the plans half enough. They don't stop to consider whether or not the style they like will fit well on their lot.

Many people are only building to sell, so they do not care what kind of a house it is, just so long as the painting is attractive and the paper shows off well. Also the construction is usually cheap. Homes built under these conditions are seldom a success.

When getting ready to build a home one should take plenty of time in planning it, think of the future when deciding on the construction and let your architect have more to say in regard to what kind or style of a building would be best suited to your location.

In the early days of California, the builders tried to follow out what they had been used to in their homes across the sea. The materials were not of the best, being only raw material, such as the rough hewn timbers and adobe bricks commonly seen in the old missions, also most of the workmen were Indians who having never seen the real thing in Spanish architecture, could do no more than try to follow the directions of the Franciscan fathers, who did the best they could.

The result was a rough style of architecture that has come to be known as Mission because it was first applied to the missions. Mexico has taken up this style and has perfected it to a degree of extreme beauty. So we have the Mexican architecture, neither Spanish nor Mission, just a touch of each and in a class by itself.

Any one of these three lend themselves wonderfully to the scenery of Southern California. Colonials may come and "Swiss aeroplanes" may go, but the California Mission will remain forever, in harmony with the surroundings in which it is built and people will never tire of seeing them.

So with all our rush let us take time to plan our homes well, let us build them to stay built and let's either pick out a house to suit our lot, or our lot to suit our house.

HAROLD D. CHARLTON, Designer.

One thing that makes us sore about the Iowa picnic every year, however, is that the park commission or somebody else who didn't have good judgment changed the name of good old Eastlake Park to Lincoln Park. We never can remember about the change of name and what's more we're never going to try to. It was all foolishness anyway. Never brought any added fame to the great name of Lincoln, and was only a belated mimicry of other cities that have had Lincoln Parks for many years. There was something apt and appropriate about the name Eastlake Park. It made a happy combination with its mate on the west side, Westlake Park. We have never been able to appreciate the restless motives that prompt some people to be always wanting to change something just about the time it gets comfortably seated on the way to become historical.

The state entomologists at Upland announce that a vigorous campaign is to be waged this year against the mealy bug pest and the Argentine ant pest. Some attention should also be paid to the Mexican uncle pest, old man Carranza. A few magazines full of pest eradicator poured in his hole and a match touched to it might do a lot of good.

companies this letter. Daniel is to take his place as pastor of the church, but not as superintendent of the mission. They wish to change to a more rural location and had planned to give us the home they have been occupying but will keep the lower rooms as a temporary measure.

When we left Porto Rico we thought the season for aguacatas and mangoes was past, but we are having them here. We have had fresh strawberries, blackberries, watermelons, green peas, string beans, green corn and various other things now out of season in the places where this letter will be read.

"Venezuela is a republic, but bear in mind there is not everything in a name."

Mrs. Fitch gives the following description of her new home, which it will be seen is quite different in many respects from California architecture:

"The building is of adobe, mud dried and colored, and is set close between others. According to custom the front doors open upon the street. There are but three windows, two in front and one opening into the first court. The three courts are open to the sky, but the dining room is roofed. The whole place is 150x25 feet, with ceilings about 12 feet. The floors of the four front rooms are of good wood and the rest are of a tile that is called Mosaic, or of cement of an excellently good quality. The house is in excellent order and very clean. The owner lives just next door in a house corresponding to this in structure. An electric stove is installed in the room we use as kitchen. The rear kitchen is for the use of charcoal and for laundry purposes. City water is drawn into the deposit any time in the forenoon. Under the rear of the building are two fair-sized rooms with toilet and court, supposed to be for the use of servants. Although my room is so far in the rear yet it is the most desirable because the lightest and most quiet, and for several other reasons. All the bedroom doors are screened. We have some flies and some mosquitoes. The garden contains several banana trees, some flowering shrubs and a chicken pen. In the courts or patios, as they are known here, there is room for small trees growing in large pots, easy chairs and a hammock. While we can see nothing at the side, and in front nothing but bare walls, yet at the rear there is a beautiful view of trees against the mountains. Then it is a comfort that the light for the whole premises comes directly down from above typifying the light from the throne of God, the giver of all the blessings we enjoy."

CARSON IS 66 TODAY

(By United Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 10.—(By Mail).—Sir Edward Carson, famous Ulster leader, today received many congratulations—and perhaps a few Sinn Fein curses—on the occasion of his sixty-sixth birthday.

Sir Edward, who is as hearty and vigorous as a man forty years his junior, has fought the cause of Ulster against Home Rule all his life. In 1912 he formed an "Ulster Provisional Government" and worked out a complete scheme of administration which he declares is still ready to be put into immediate operation if the British Parliament or Sinn Fein attempts to coerce Ulster. "Ulster will Fight and Ulster will be Right," said the late Lord Randolph Churchill, and this has long been Carson's motto.

Carson is a "King's Counsel" and his legal earnings for many years must have been enormous, as he has been in every cause celebre, at huge fees, for the past thirty years. At present he is credited with an income of from $150,000 to $250,000 a year, and he is certainly the highest priced lawyer today.

POLES HELP REBUILD FRANCE

(By United Press).

PARIS, (By Mail).—Each dressed in a complete outfit of American clothing, from socks to cap, 10,000 Polish workmen, engaged by agents of the French government for reconstruction work in the devastated regions of Northern France, are already at work among the ruins of the republic's once thriving industrial section.

The arrangement by which the Poles were brought to France for the vast work of re-making the country torn to sheds by the Germans is looked on with favor by both the French and Polish governments. Considerable unrest reported in Poland has been solved by finding work for thousands of idle but able-bodied men. Likewise France favored the project because she had been depleted of so much man-power that industrial stagnation was imminent but for speedy rebuilding of factories and rearrangement of towns.

Before the workmen left Warsaw they were supplied with complete outfits of clothes by the American Red Cross. It is likely 100,000 more men will be recruited from Poland to advance more speedily the work of reconstruction.

The workmen are to be paid from indemnity funds paid France by Germany. Provision has been made for allotment to the men's families out of their pay during their absence.

ROME.—Lovesick at ninety, an almshouse inmate at Severino, named Follini, drowned himself when a woman inmate, 84, rejected his advances.

The South Pasadena ostrich farm has just closed the most prosperous year in its history. The owners ostrich-feathered their nests as it were.

Oil has been struck within ten miles of Corona, and the residents of that city can already smell the odor of profits from oil under their own soil.

URGENCY FOR LEGISLATION AGAINST JAP MENACE

In pointing out the significance of the action of Churchill county, in Nevada, which has petitioned for a special session of the state legislature to take up the question of the Japanese menace, we took it as indicating the necessity of early action to prevent the problem becoming as serious as it has already become in California.

We take it that some of the men opposed to action at this time are either badly advised or poorly informed. Too many of these opponents of early legislative action are impressed by what they declare to be the evident intention of the Japanese government to prevent the immigration of laborers to this country. We are ready to grant this to be a fact, although there is considerable evidence that laborers, whether clandestinely or not, continue to arrive in some numbers in this country.

But it is not the labor menace we fear now. There is every evidence that the Japanese are busily engaged in buying and leasing land, so that the measure of the menace cannot be fixed on a basis of population. They are also engaged in the same form of peaceful penetration practiced by the Germans, but with infinitely greater cunning than our late foes showed.

It is known that the Japanese are paying prices for land and leases out of all proportion to the present value. Some of the leases are being taken at a price which would ordinarily pay for the land outright. Since these are known facts, it must be suspected that these purchases are being subsidized by some power interested in more than the immediate value of the land thus gained.

A host of biological, sociological and economic reasons can be given for the conviction that the Orientals can never become an integral part of our civilization, and there is not one jot of evidence showing the contrary. As it was eternally true that this country could not exist half slave and half free, it is equally true that it cannot endure half white and half Oriental. And these leaders must never forget that it is not a matter of shame but a cause for pride that our white labor declines to compete on a working basis with the Oriental.

URGE ACTION ON TAX RETURNS

In a statement made to the press by Collector of Internal Revenue John P. Carter, he lays particular stress on the fact that income tax returns to be filed by corporations, partnerships and individuals subject to the provisions of the income tax law are not being received at his office at this time as fast as they should be. The blank forms of return were mailed to all taxpayers of record about the middle of the month of January, and although three weeks time has elapsed since the date of mailing the forms, the number received has been alarmingly small.

The collector and his deputies are anxious and willing to assist taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, but it will be impossible to furnish this assistance unless the taxpayers ask for it now rather than wait until the last ten days or two weeks prior to March 15. It will be readily seen that if the majority of taxpayers postpone the filing of their returns until within the month of March that practically no assistance can be given them on account of the large number of people who will be desirous of filing returns at that time. The collector suggests that as many who will be required to file returns as possible file their returns now and not wait until the last moment. Those that wait to perform this duty sometimes wait too long and as a consequence are subjected to the severe penalties denounced in the law.

The fire alarm at Norwalk sounded on a recent Sunday morning, and all the folks at Sunday School dashed out to see where the fire was. Editor Truitt of the Call says he hopes the people will be as prompt in their response at all fires. They probably will, if they are at Sunday School.

Some one robbed a chewing gum machine of 311 pieces of gum at the Santa Fe station at Santa Ana the other night. He ought to be caught and given a medal for discovering a way to get a railway station chewing gum machine to cough up gum at all. We never could.

PERMANENT U. S. CLUB IN PARIS

(By United Press).

PARIS, (By Mail).—For the thousands of American tourists in Europe and American colonists in Paris a permanent "foyer" has been established by the American Woman's Club of Paris.

Here any American can go just as to his own home, enjoy real American home atmosphere, have his meals, meet other Americans, and, if he be a tourist, get all the information about Paris, France, or any other European country available in any "tourists' bureau" in Paris.

Convinced of the need for some such American center to assist newly arrived Americans to adjust themselves to the entirely different conditions of continental Europe—especially during the first two or three weeks after their arrival—the club took over one of the Y. W. C. A. hostels, formerly Hotel Petrograd, and converted it into a beautiful club house.

It will also serve as a center for social activities in the growing American colony in Paris.

A dormitory has been opened for American girls—either resident or tourist. Emergency rooms have been set aside for "strandees," who will be harbored temporarily until other accommodations can be found.

The salons on downstairs floors are at the disposal of both men and women. Only Americans are admitted into the dining room, where meals are served three times a day.

A "shoppers' bureau" has been instituted to protect American tourists. Here Americans may learn the location and character of all shopping centers of Paris. The club's staff has cataloged stores of many kinds, according to price level and standard of quality.

The staff makes periodic calls on the stores listed, verifying its findings and making sure that there is no price discrimination against Americans.

The club's routine social program includes:

A dance for all American young people in Paris every two weeks.

An afternoon tea for American young people every Sunday afternoon, followed by supper and evening musicale, at which many leading Parisian artists appear donating their services.

Various lectures and conferences for American young women, at which leading American business and professional men in Paris and prominent Frenchmen speak.

LOOKS FOR RESUMPTION OF BRITISH RELATIONS

(By United Press).

CITY OF MEXICO.—(By Mail).—Following the return from Europe of General Candido Aguilar, Mexican Secretary of Foreign Relations, there has been increased talk of a resumption of diplomatic relations between Mexico and Great Britain.

Aguilar declared the other day that he believed official intercourse between the two nations would be resumed at an early date. While in England, he said, he conferred with a number of officials who expressed the desire that relations be resumed.

Should Britain renew recognition of the Carranza government, it is predicted that her action would be followed by an influx of British capital into Mexico and an intensive commercial drive. The Mexico City tramway system has been returned to the British and it is understood the latter are negotiating now to regain control of the Mexican Railway line to Vera Cruz.

HAVE A CIGAR

"Now, young man," began Senator Balsam A. Pines, "in granting you this interview on the high cost of living, I want it distinctly understood that I do so only on the assumption that you will quote me literally, exactly and truthfully, not deviating in the minutest particular from my spoken words."

"Very well, Senator," replied Herald McSquare, of the Evening Daily. "I understand thoroughly and I promise to quote you absolutely verbatim."

CHAPTER II

An hour had elapsed.

'Now, young man," said Senator Pines, "you may read the interview off to me from your notes, exactly as it will appear in your paper. I refuse to be misquoted, sir, I refuse to be misquoted."

Herald McSquare began to read: "The—ah— the subject—the—ah topic, on which you ask my—ah—advice—my—ah—views, is on extremely complicated matter—ah—question, ahem. Ahem. There are many sides, that is—ah—angles, angles, ahem to be discussed—ah—considered. Ahem. In the first place the—ah—ahem. Ahem. Firstly."

"That will do," interrupted Senator Pines, drawing out his handkerchief and drawing in his chest. "I—ah—ahem—don't mind modifying my original statement a trifle, inasmuch as—that is to say, to the extent—oh, confound it, fix the thing up the way it ought to look. Have a cigar. Take a handfull."

was planned primarily for the man who wants a home—a new home built after plans which he has approved—the man who has neither large means or a great amount of time to superintend the building of his home.

We have on file in our office hundreds of plans of homes designed by some of the most able architects in the country. We have an efficient architect in our office whom you may consult and who will advise you as to the best style of architecture for the locality where you intend to build and give you other important information.

When you have selected your building plans and we have arranged the details you can safely leave the matter in our hands. We build scores of homes on this plan and will positively carry out our contract to the letter.

Accurate Plans and Attention To Detail—Good Materials Efficient and Responsible Workmen

Personals

Mr. Royce, father of Mrs. Robert Blackburn, is said to be seriously ill.

R. M. Jackson, the realty dealer, is confined to his home by heart trouble.

Mrs. Powell of Reedley, Cal., is a guest this week of Mrs. R. M. Brown at 220 South Orange Street.

Mrs. E. F. Archer, who is teaching school near Hemet, spent Sunday with Glendale relatives and friends.

W. P. McMullin and a party which will include Mrs. McMullin, Mrs. Cooksey and Ray Stratton of Pasadena will make a week-end auto trip to Big Bear Lake, leaving next Saturday.

Mrs. Frankie Wallace of Macon, Mo., who has been quite ill at the home of Mrs. Anderson at 1321 East Harvard Street, has greatly improved in health, which will be good news to her many friends here from Macon.

Jack Boettner of 128 West Windsor Road reported to the police yesterday that they arrived at home at 3 o'clock Sunday morning from a trip and found that their home had been entered and ransacked. Two valuable gold rings were taken.

Miss Mae Redfern of Casper, Wyo., came recently to spend a month or more with her aunt, Mrs. H. R. Sibley, of 323 West Windsor Road. Her mother, Mrs. Emily Redfern of Fullerton, arrived Saturday to join her in the visit to the Sibley home.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones is a guest today at a big reception which is being given at the Alexandria in Los Angeles by the Catholic Women's Club in honor of its president. A large number of invitations have been sent out and it is quite an elaborate function.

Mr. and Mrs. Echerline of Santa Ana have purchased property at 1006 East Colorado, consisting of three fourths of an acre and a five-room house from J. D. Simmons. They expect to occupy it as a home. Mr. Simmons will buy elsewhere in Glendale.

That the sneak thieves now operating so extensively in Glendale are no respecters of persons is shown by the fact that the speedometer was stolen from Officer Trautwein's motorcycle in front of the Elks' Club last night while he was attending the lodge meeting.

Elmer J. Jackson, formerly Overland agent for Glendale and recently a census enumerator for Glendale, is closing up his affairs here and getting ready to go to Springfield, Ill., where he and a friend have a flourishing wholesale paper business being run by the latter.

Mrs. H. R. Sibley of 323 West Windsor Road is a firm believer in the efficacy of Evening News Classified Ads. It cost her just 85 cents commission, she says, to effect the sale of her property on West Maple. An ad in the paper one Monday brought a purchaser the next morning and the transfer was completed by Saturday.

The property at 1118 South San Fernando Road, known as the Tuppen place, has been sold to a Mr. and Mrs. Rose who with their family have taken possession. The original house on the property has been wrecked and the new owners are replacing it with a modern bungalow. They had been living in Japan for several years before coming to Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson of East Chestnut Street motored to San Diego for the week-end. They found the city so full they could get no accommodations, so turned back to La Jolla, where they were taken in by friends and had a very pleasant outing attending the dance given by the woman's club. They report a considerably heavier rainfall there than here which retarded their homeward journey on Sunday.

The City W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting last Friday at the home of Mrs. G. H. Rowe of 216 South Orange Street. On account of the illness of both the president and vice president, Mrs. Mottern presided. As the date of the next meeting would naturally fall on the 20th of the month, a date set for a union missionary service, a vote was taken to postpone it until the 27th. Following the program refreshments were served by the hostess and a social hour was enjoyed.

Rev. E. H. Willisford goes to Claremont today to attend a meeting of the Southern California Conference of Congregational Churches which assembles once a year at Pomona College. It is expected that a number of persons from Glendale will respond to the invitation the college is sending out to friends and patrons of the school to join in a special program for Lincoln Day, which is always featured at that school. It will include a half-hour of music at Bridge Hall, an address on Lincoln by Professor Smith of the University of Chicago, a basket lunch at noon and an open meeting of the Congregational Clubs of Southern California in the afternoon.

This is business banquet night at the White Inn for members of the Industrial Committee of the Greater Glendale Development Association. Dinner at 6:15 o'clock. See J. G. Huntley for a belated dinner ticket.

F. W. Meckfessel has bought the Whitworth place at 505 West Jackson and will move as soon as F. J. Mathiesen, who lives there, can get possession of the property he bought at 218 West Windsor Road, now occupied by Dr. Collier, and that depends on when Dr. Collier moves to the property on West Stocker he recently bought of W. A. George.

Rev. W. J. Marsh of Yorba Linda, who filled the pulpit of Dr. E. H. Willisford during his absence in France, was in Glendale Monday calling upon old friends here and remaining for the night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Richards on Salem Street. He states that Mrs. Marsh, who has been quite ill at the home of his aunt in Los Angeles, is now making an excellent recovery, which will be good news to her many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery have returned from a very pleasant week-end at Catalina. They were accompanied by two old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCord of Ainsworth, Ia., whom they had not seen for twenty years until they called to see them a week ago. The party found the boats crowded both going and coming and at the St. Catherine's Hotel guests were being turned away. A new hotel is going up and many improvements are being made which indicate prosperity in the island.

J. B. Markey and wife and L. T. Stocking, wife and daughter of Morrison, Ill., are in Glendale today trying to find an abiding place for a few weeks so as to be near the Griffith Park golf links. They are enjoying a vacation and want to make the most of it. Mr. Markey is president of the Illinois Refrigerator Company in Morrison, and Mr. Stocking is an attorney of that city. The latter is an old friend of A. T. Cowan, proprietor of the Evening News, both being graduates of the same high school.

NEEDLEWORK TEA PARTY

Mrs. T. W. Preston entertained Monday afternoon at her attractive home on North Jackson Street with one of the teas for the benefit of the Tuesday Afternoon Club House Fund. Acacia bloom was used for floral decoration and the American flag was much in evidence. Simple refreshments were served and an informal social afternoon was enjoyed by the ladies over their needlework. The guest list included: Mesdames S. C. Leppelman, E. M. Bales, S. W. St. Clair, R. M. Brown and her sister, Mrs. Crane from Iowa; Henry Lawrence, T. H. Addison, Mabel F. Ocker, J. H. Franklin, Arthur Brown, J. M. Banker, M. P. Harrison, W. E. Edmonds, C. D. Lusby, R. E. Chase, R. E. Blackburn and Misses Fielding, Ruth Byram and Ida Myers.

DEATH OF MRS. S. J. ALLEE

Mrs. S. Jane Allee, who has been a resident of this city at East Los Feliz Road for a number of years and who has been an invalid and much crippled for a long time, passed away this morning at an early hour. She had been such a cheerful, courageous soul that she was much beloved by her neighbors, who feel her death keenly. She leaves two sons and two daughters. Both sons have been with her recently but one was summoned to his home in Iowa by a telegram received the first of the week stating that his son was lying at the point of death. The other son, who lives in California, returned to his home day before yesterday. The daughter, Miss Grace Allee, has resided with and cared for her mother, and her sister, Mrs. Myron Griswold, resides at 1612 South Brand Boulevard. No announcement has yet been made in regard to funeral services.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR R. P. JODON

R. P. Jodon of 133 South Kenwood was very pleasantly surprised last night by a few friends on the occasion of his forty-fifth birthday. It was planned and carried out by Mrs. Jodon and her mother, Mrs. Stem. Yellow and white were the prevailing colors, these being carried out in the flowers, the birthday cake and even the salad. Those present as guests were: Rev. C. A. Cole, wife and two children, John M. Ray and wife and Eugene H. Learned and wife. There were just 13 present, including the Jodon family.

PLEASED WITH RESULTS

Mrs. Labre of 114 South Franklin Court was surprised at the speedy results she obtained with a For Sale advertisement in the Glendale Evenings News. Mrs. Labre inserted an ad of furniture for sale for a week. After the first insertion she canceled the ad saying she had disposed of all her furniture. Mrs. Hattie Gaylord of East Lexington was well satisfied with the results she got from two insertions of an advertisement for furniture for sale. She disposed of practically all of her household goods in that time at satisfactory prices.

SAVING THE PIECES

MANY DOLLARS MAY BE MADE BY HAVING BROKEN PARTS BRAZED OR WELDED

While the American soldiers and workmen of the A. E. F. found the Frenchmen far behind in labor saving methods and efficient machinery, they had to acknowledge that Francois could beat them in saving. Nothing was thrown away that could be mended and the last ounce of energy was demanded of every engine or piece of machinery. L. H. Bess, who recently established the Glendale Welding and Brazing Works on Wilson Avenue says that is one thing he learned while working in Uncle Sam's repair shop over there as a mechanician in the aviation service. And he believes that in these days of high living costs every one should save all he can. A bent, twisted and gashed auto fender can be straightened out and the holes cut in it completely closed up at a little of the cost of a new one. Broken parts of auto frames, radiators, crank cases, axles, bronze and brass pieces can be made absolutely as good as new by oxy-acetylene and brazing processes, and often a broken part can be mended in much less time than it takes to send for a new one. Not only vanadium and manganese steel, aluminum, bronze, brass and copper parts can be mended but also cast iron and cast steel. Many people throw away immediately a cast iron stove door that has a piece broken out of it when it could easily be mended so that it is as strong as ever and the break can not be detected.

SINGLE TAX MEETING

The single tax meeting at Mrs. John Paul's, 233 South Orange, last Saturday evening voted to change the program to hear Mrs. Robinson's report of ex-Senator Geo. W. Cartwright's recent anti-single tax speech at Hotel Clark before a hundred club women of wealth and fashion.

She said that unwittingly his account of the present near-bankruptcy of counties, municipalities, business firms, builders, would-be farmers and home owners surpassed all single tax attempts to picture what we have come to by our present system.

None of these agencies, he declared, can undertake either public or private enterprises without issuing bonds or borrowing money at the banks. "The single tax," he said, "would so lower the prices of land that nobody would want land for any other purpose than use." It would destroy the borrowing power." Did he really mean to give so much away?

"Single taxers," Mrs. Robinson said, "have always claimed that their bill would put a premium on using land and a penalty on holding it out of use. That the operation of single tax would soon make all men generally so much better off that they would have money in their pockets for their rightful enterprises instead of having to bend the knee to Eastern financiers to float their municipal and other bonds, or to the bankers to make it possible to start a farm or a home."

'HEAD OF A FAMILY" MUST QUALIFY AS SUCH

Unmarried men and women who are bread winners for others are granted special exemptions on their earnings before figuring the income tax now being collected. Although a return must be filed by every unmarried person, and by every married person living apart from wife (or husband), who had a net income of $1000 or more during 1919, recognition is made in the law of the home burdens carried by millions of such persons, and relief from excessive taxation is especially provided.

In addition to the ordinary personal exemption of $1000, an additional exemption of $1000 is granted to "heads of families;"-and there is also provided an exemption of $200 for each dependeut under 18 years of age, or who is mentally or physically defective.

The $200 for each dependent may be claimed by any taxpayer who is the chief support of such dependent. This is not confined to dependents who are members of the family or relatives. On the other hand, it does not include servants or others who are earning their living. And it does not apply to the wife or husband of the married taxpayer, even though such person may have become a total burden

It should be remembered that the person who claims exemption as "head of a family" must qualify for it. Two single persons who divide between them, more or less equally, the financial and other responsibilities of a household can not claim that either one is the head of the family. But if a single person actually assumes the total responsibilities of the household and is aided by having one of his brothers or sisters support himself and contributing an amount that could not practically be considered more than his board, such trivial circumstances must not be allowed to interfere with his clear claim for exemption.

POLA AN OLD CITY

Pola was a Thracian colony when the Romans swooped down and took it in 178 B. C., and a stormy existence followed this descent of the world-conquerors. In 1379 it was virtually blotted out of existence when the Genoese daring forbears of Admiral Christopher Columbus, defeated the Venetians in a great sea fight off the port, and then wrecked the town—and kept it out of the annals for a century and a half. It came back finally and waxed important again and since 1815 was Austria's principal naval harbor.

OFFICE OF TRUE FRIEND

To know that you have a friend concerned in your struggle robs it of half its hardness. Disappointments that would assume bitter proportions lose their edge in the friend's smile. He helps us see that matters might have been worse. Emerson is never tired of extolling the merits of the nurse of his childhood who always helped him belittle his petty hurts by being glad they were not much more painful. And that's the office of the sincere friend. His office is to bring out our best and make us manly.

RHINE LONG A BOUNDARY

The first people who took possession of the banks of the Rhine, we are told, were the half-savage Celts, who afterward received the name Gauls. In the height of his glory Caesar crossed the Rhine and shortly afterward took the entire river under his jurisdiction. The river was, in Roman times, a boundary between the province of Gaul and the German tribes, and at a later date and until 1871 was the frontier between Germany and France.

IVORY IN THE MIDDLE AGES

In the middle ages ivory was extensively used for writing tablets. One of Chaucer's characters has "A pair of tables all of ivory," and again the same writer speaks of ivory chess men: "The ches was all of ivory, the meyne fresh and new." Ivory was also much used for making caskets and mirror frames during the middle ages, and these were often elaborately carved.

OF LATIN DERIVATION

Corps is a French word derived from the Latin corpus, a body, either civil or military, as a police corps, marine corps, etc. It does not signify any particular number, but an organized body. In the United States army a corps consists of two or more divisions, each containing three brigades and each brigade three regiments. The term first came into use in this country during the Civil war period.

BEING A POLITICIAN

You cannot help being a politician. You cannot live for an hour without being a politician. But what a man generally means when he says that he is not a politician I am afraid is this—that he has been all his life enjoying his political privileges and grossly neglecting his political duties.—Rev. Hugh Price Hughes.

"SPIRITUAL LEADERSHIP," INDEED!

In full consistency with his accustomed assumption that whatever course he pursues is right, President Wilson declares that "The United States enjoyed the spirited leadership of the world until the Senate failed to ratify the treaty." In his view of things spiritual and of leadership, the position of the United States depends entirely upon whether or not this nation is willing to surrender its sovereignty to a league of nations and undertake to supply funds and military force to preserve the boundary lines of other nations of the earth.

Since President Wilson has broached the subject of "spiritual leadership," and since the Democratic organization has formally declared its intention to stand behind the President rather than side with others in the plan to adopt reservations that will fully preserve American rights, traditions and interests, it is pertinent to review some of Mr. Wilson's ideals of spiritual leadership.

In 1914 when the German hordes began their rush upon France across Belgian soil, the Belgians had their choice of two courses—to let the Germans pass unhindered and save their own lives and property, or to preserve their national honor by resisting the invasion at immeasurable cost of suffering, life and property. Under the leadership of the brave King Albert, the Belgians chose the latter course and during three years of devastation and ruthless persecution thrust upon that innocent people, Woodrow Wilson maintained the doctrine that the war, its causes and results, were none of our affair. This is not recalled so much in censure of President Wilson for his course than as it is in answer to his present claim to spiritual leadership. His course was one of inaction—passiveness, at a time when the real spiritual leaders were helping to save the world from the heel of the Hun.

But there came a time when President Wilson changed from a mere passive to an active course. When Great Britain was trying to prevent shipment of American goods to Germany through adjacent neutral countries, President Wilson insisted upon continuance of the shipments, declaring that the United States would defend its right to the uttermost. A little passiveness at that time, might have been of tremendous help to Belgium, France and Great Britain, even though it limited to some extent the prosperity argument of the Democratic party in the succeeding campaign.

Even if a charitable view may be taken of Wilson's attitude toward the European conflict itself, there is no room for extenuation of his utterance immediately following the sinking of the Lusitania, when hundreds of innocent men, women and children, some of them Americans, were drowned. In a deliberately uttered address he declared America "too proud to fight." Germany had hurled the challenge, and that was the reply of the "spiritual leader."

Just before America was forced into the war, Mr. Wilson delivered another carefully prepared address in which he asserted that there must be "peace without victory"—a peace agreed upon by equals at the peace table. This was not mere passiveness—it was an affirmative and gratuitous expression of policy—an attempt at "spiritual leadership."

With these major incidents in mind, there is scarcely need to recall the partisanship which characterized the administration during the war, the campaign on the plea of "kept us out of war," and demand for partisan Congress after the opposing party had been more ready than his own to support war measures, or, finally, and, perhaps, most vitally important, his attempted overthrow of representative government by efforts to evade that section of our constitution which requires the making of treaties by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. In fact, if there is any act in President Wilson's whole administration of national affairs which can justify the claim to "spiritual leadership," that act seems to have been successfully concealed.—Long Beach Telegram.

THE HUMBLE MAJORITY

There are two sides to this "extravagant spending" business. One side has been given at length in the last few weeks, by representatives of nearly all the big industries. They have explained eloquently that people insist on high prices, and will not buy anything priced low, so that dealers have had to stop ordering goods to sell at moderate rates, and manufacturers have had to stop making them. The other side is given by a traveling salesman, who writes:

"In the past year I have been traveling, and I know how people are prospering and what they think of business conditions, what they buy and consume, and I do know that in all my fifty-eight years' experience among people they never lived on shorter rations at such high cash prices, and there never was a time when the majority so eagerly sought for low-priced goods of every kind."

Consumers with plenty of money have certainly been spending their money with reckless abandon; and their thriftless example has had a pernicious influence on others who could less afford the expenditure. But certainly this mania for spending has not infected our whole society. The traveling man, replying directly to President Wood of the American Woolen Company, who complained that people would not buy anything but the finest woolen cloth, suggests that Mr. Wood does not know "who are the majority of the people."

The majority of the people are always limited in purchasing power, always driven by hard necessity to demand low prices and content themselves with commodities of coarser material and workmanship. Certainly neither the ingrained habits nor the purchasing power of this humble majority has changed all at once. It has its reckless spenders—families infatuated with high wages and not able to see, for the moment, how little those wages mean at present price-levels; but such families are surely not typical. This majority is not so well press-agented as the richer classes, but it is beginning to be heard from, and its wants sooner or later will demand recognition.

OSLER'S CENSUS OF DEATH-BEDS

The great physician, Dr. William Osler, who recently died, has left us an interesting account in which he summarizes his studies as to whether it is painful and distressing to die. He said: "I have careful records of about 500 death-beds, studied particularly with reference to modes of death and the sensations of the dying. The latter alone concerns us here. Ninety suffered bodily pain and distress of one sort or another, eleven showed mental apprehension, two positive terror, one bitter remorse. The great majority gave no sign one way or the other; like their birth, their death was a 'sleep and a forgetting.'"

NEAR EAST RELIEF

A meeting of the Glendale "Near East Relief" committee was held at the Red Cross shop yesterday. The meeting was attended by the following persons: Mrs. L. W. Bosserman from St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Mrs. F. M. Smith from Central M. E. Church, Rev. E. E. Ford, Baptist Church; Rev. R. W. Munson, Seventh-day Adventist Church; Rev. E. O. Thayer, Casa Verdugo M. E. Church; Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, Congregational Church; Mrs. Gertrude M. Tisdale, Central M. E. Church; Miss Eva Daniels, the Jewish Circle; Mrs. A. W. Tower, Tuesday Afternoon Club; Mrs. H. J. Horn, New Thought Center; Rev. R. W. Mottern, Lutheran Church; J. W. Usilton, Chamber of Commerce. Ezra Parker and Dr. Willisford were present also. A number of other churches and organizations were represented by proxies. Dr. Willisford, who is chairman of the Glendale district, presided. Under the plans perfected on Sunday, February 29, appeals will be made through all the churches. The next day the canvass will be completed among the church members and on the Tuesday and Wednesday following the entire community will be canvassed. All religious bodies, Catholic, Jewish and Protestant alike, are ardently supporting this most worthy cause. A nationwide appeal is being made at this time for a fund of $60,000,000 to care for the hundreds of thousands of starving children and helpless women in the Near East. Glendale's quota is not large, only $3,642. Already much interest is manifest in this most worthy enterprise.

IOWA PICNIC

February 22 (Washington's Birthday) has been pre-empted for the Iowa picnic which will be held in Lincoln, formerly Eastlake Park, with the usual county registers and attractions.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Feb. 10.—(United Press).—Corduroy trousers and woolen shirts for boys, gingham dresses and cotton stockings for girls is the program adopted by Muskogee high school students in their fight to knock the kick out of Old H. C. L.

Not only this, but the girls wear their hair in braids—to save hairpins and rouge, and other aids to beauty are "not the thing" at all.

STUDENTS INTERESTED

ESSEX GOES TO SCHOOL AND IS DEMONSTRATED BEFORE MECHANICAL ARTS CLASS

Recently Mr. Richardson, instructor of Mechanical Arts at the Glendale High School, dropped in to see this popular car at the showroom of Chambers & Felts, local Hudson and Essex dealers, and said, "I would appreciate it very much if you could bring the Essex to the High School so that the students will have an opportunity to study the unique features of the Essex."

On Monday the Essex was driven into the shop at the High School and placed over the pits so that a thorough examination could be given the car by the students who were very much impressed with the mechanical features and sturdiness of the car, as one of the students remarked, "The Essex has all the mechanical and constructional features that Mr. Richardson has taught us are the best in motor car construction."

The students were especially interested in the Essex patented counter balanced crankshaft and patented carburetor which makes the Essex such a powerful and smooth running car.

LONDON.—Charged with drunkenness three times in thirty-six hours at the same court, a Canning Town man created a new record. The first time he was arrested he had $125, the second time $3 and a bottle of rum, the third time, nothing but a headache.
